VOL. III. NO. 87.

CHICAGO, SUNDAY AND MONDAY, APRIL 11-12, 1897.

PRICE, 5 CTS

GENERAL SPORTING COMMENT.

There is likely to be some racing of a high class in Chicago this year. Men, who have keenly felt the shifty legislative pulse say, that a thirty days bill is not possible but that one of fifteen days has a chance. The rural element, which knows racing only about harness horses and race meetings of six or less days duration each year, is strong in the present legislature. There's no money there to use among the "talent" in favor of the grease of a racing bill. Washington Park doesn't care, Harlem isn't in a spending way and the genius of Hawthorne, Ed Corrigan, is in California attending to his business and ready to take whatever does or does not come in a legislative way. The Wiley bill has settled Ideal Park. It must rest for a long term. So must Milwaukee. If the fifteen days Illinois bill passes, Chicago will virtually have ninety days of racing this year. Washington Park can have a glorious meeting of fifteen days. It might do worse than to adopt Ideal Park's stakes—an array worthy of any race course. Hawthorne and Harlem would hold sharp fifteen days meetings and around the three Chicago tracks would be the Indiana frame of forty-five days more. Forsyth opens for fifteen of these days next Thursday. It has the horses for good racing already in its stables.

If during Forsyth's racing term an Illinois bill should pass, the Chicago tracks would favor horsemen by so arranging their meetings that the gaps between the Chicago and Indiana are as short as possible.

Arbitration and its common sense is the idea for application to the local future. Wise operation of racing hereabouts will cultivate legislative sense to a bill that will at least give modest protection to one of the most important industries of Illinois—horse breeding. That industry, without racing and the speculation of intelligence and public morality, isn't an industry at all. Therefore, what racing interests there are, bearing on Illinois, and keen to Chicago—Indiana has the right to be included—should be recognized in full.

A meeting of the owners of such interests should be held as early as possible. It should assign dates. The harness people must also be represented and well treated. Without them Chicago will be as barren as it has been since 1894. Such a conference may broaden the views of the men who shape the harness horse interests of Illinois.

There will be ninety days for thoroughbred racing in Chicago and its Indiana suburbs, should the Illinois bill in contemplation pass. The three Chicago tracks have forty-five days of this term. Forsyth, Ind., will race from April 15 to April 30. There must be a thirty-days gap between the Forsyth meeting and that of the other tracks in Indiana. That term ends June 3. During the thirty days following a Chicago track should hold a fifteen-day meeting. Such arrangement will keep horses in the local field and benefit the general racing thereof.

Indiana's eligible dates after Forsyth's close begin July 4—a keen date. The conference could consider its assignment, and, after it, the racing dates of the four tracks for the remaining sixty days, after the term including and following Independence day. In such days as these arbitration is necessary and wise. It is sincerely to be hoped that if the Illinois fifteen days bill passes, no conflict of tracks or interests in and around Chicago will ensue.
